The Daily Press.

HONGKONG, FEBRUARY 15TH, 1907.

Just at this period of pandemonium seems a fair opportunity to compare some of the more obvious characteristics of Chinese—and of foreigners. Just as foreign missionaries sneer at the absurd superstitions of Chinese religions, so intelligent Chinese retort on the miraculous absurdities of foreign religions. So also, as the Chinese openly call foreigners barbarians, so the foreigners deny the ancient civilization of the Oriental. For those who are not satisfied to side with the popular prejudices of their own people, every opportunity of studying a people's characteristics when that people is off its guard, and less likely to pose, is to be welcomed. Occasions when the masses are expressing their feelings and emotions offer such opportunities. Meaning to scrutinize the behaviour of the Hongkong Chinese with some closeness this New Year time, our attention has been distracted by the conduct of their foreign neighbours, with the result that the odd question of their respective claims to civilization has forced itself into consideration. It is the phenomenon of noise, particularly, as an admitted manifestation of barbarism, that has demanded attention. Considerable licence is allowed, and the colonial laws relaxed, to enable the Chinese at this time to give vent to their feelings in customary ways; but the curious feature of the holiday is that "civilized" foreigners, white men or semi-white, have seized the opportunity to let themselves go. In the crowds in the streets of Chinatown, where the stalls of alleged bargains were, as much noise was made by "civilized" foreigners as by the natives, a favourite trick of civilized humour being to explode crackers in the crowd to see nervous people jump. Apparently also the vendors of fireworks were as extensively patronized by foreigners as by Chinese, and these not all children. The very juvenile representative of Christian civilization is frankly barbaric in his love of noise, passing from infantile howls to boyish drum-banging without the slightest recognition of the responsibility that is on his race to set the Chinese a more dignified example. He makes no pretence like his older nationals, who at such times as the present show their real temperament by taking advantage of an indulgence intended for the Chinese, and rival the latter in his discordant orgies. Is it that such opportunities are equivalent to the idea of scratching a Russian in order to find a Tartar; that there is no really civilized people, but only a few intellectuals whose antipathy to dirt marks their elevation above the common herd? That the word "noise" should have the same root as the word "nausea" argues that the Latins were perhaps a little further advanced in civilization than their modern descendants who love to seize at every chance to make clatter and uproar. The coming and goings of Royalty still provoke members of the higher civilizations to noisy demonstrations like those familiar to barbaric pageants, and the "royal salute" of our Services may be reckoned on a par with the "tom-tom"ing at a black chief's corroboree. But in the case of white or semi-white people who jump at the opportunity of China New Year to discharge quantities of cheap and noisy fireworks from their windows, with none of China's ideas of "jiao" in this connection, we find it hard to think of comments sufficiently contemptuous to fit such noisy, noisome yahoos. It is a degrading thing, a trenchery to the civilization they reap, and the police should endeavour to make it clear to such that the temporary licence allowed to Chinese does not extend to those who are erroneously supposed to know better. The Chinese are supposed to be scaring away devils; their foreign imitators have no need to do so, since no self-respecting demon would willingly endure their company. The pioneers of Western civilization in China should all be asked to flock to Hongkong just before next China New Year, to turn their batteries of persuasion and prayer on the people who thus discredit it.

The Hongkong, Canton and Macao Steamboat Co. is running the Honam on the cheap excursion trip to Macao on Sunday. The steamer leaves Hongkong (Douglas wharf) at 8 a.m. and Macao on the return trip at 8 p.m. Fuller information will be found in the special advertisement on page 4.

Three French gentlemen had an exciting adventure with a tiger in Annam last month. The animal dashed through the brushwood and was shot by M. de Houdetot and fell at the feet of M. de Bartholomy. It roused itself and caught the latter by the left arm, but fortunately the first named gentleman had the presence of mind to take steady aim and penetrate its brain with his second shot. The injured hunter is recovering.

The Duke of Connaught has developed into something more than Inspector-General of the Forces; he has positively become a missionary of the Empire, and his official journey to the Far East will have political as well as military results. His tour of inspection last winter throughout South Africa made for peace and reconciliation among the Boers, who could not help being charmed by the duke's gracious ways. His Royal Highness knows, his Canada, his India, and his South Africa, and on returning from his present tour—which he hopes to do in time to attend our combined naval and military autumn manoeuvres on the south coast—the duke will have seen more of the military defences of the Empire than any other living soldier.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Alexander are spending a few days in Hongkong before proceeding to Australia, and Mr. Alexander has been prevailed upon to conduct a service of song in the Theatre Royal on Sunday night at 9 o'clock. Mr. Alexander's abilities are well known to many from the homeland, and they will no doubt welcome this opportunity to hear him in Hongkong. He is, perhaps, most widely known as a leader of large choirs. To assist in his meetings in Australia a few years ago, a choir of over 1,200 voices was organized and trained, but this number was small in comparison with the choirs he organized in Great Britain. In Liverpool he had 3,800 chorists, while at the Royal Albert Hall, London, 4,000 people formed the choir under his leadership. Only one meeting will be held in Hongkong, Mr. Alexander being under doctor's orders as the result of a recent accident. We understand his methods are less irreverent and indecorous than were those of his former colleague, Mr. Torrey.

Chinese New Year passed off without any untoward event this year. The weather was cold and bracing and conducive to outdoor pleasure. Business was as usual completely suspended during Wednesday and Thursday, but a start is being made to-day. The Chinese carried out their old time celebrations with characteristic picturesque ceremonial, in which of course the firing of crackers figured largely.

The Tonkin newspapers at the end of last month published sensational stories of a mortal duel fought between British and French naval officers near Saigon. L'Opinion confirmed the story and gave numerous details, indicating also that the origin of the quarrel was at the ball given by the Governor General, where an English officer was disrespectful to a lady. The same journal declared that the duel was fought at six o'clock on the morning of 28th January. It was found that the story had no foundation in fact, and the Government officially denied the report.

Two of the staff of the meteorological station established by Prince Yamashina on Mount Taushu—J. Sato and M. Tsutsumi by name—succeeded in ascending Fuji on the 25th ultimo. According to the Japan Gazette, they started from Matshu, about 21 miles from Gotemba, at 3.50 a.m., that day, accompanied by three coolies. They did not feel the cold severely, the temperature being unexpectedly high. The snow was deepest between the sixth and eighth stations, over one foot. The thermometer indicated five degrees below the freezing point at the eighth station. The weather was fine. The two meteorological experts accomplished their duty and returned to Tokyo on the 27th. On the Pelee-Mountain they used light blue spectacles and wore gauji (a kind of sandal made of iron bearing four spikes) under straw sandals. Our contemporary adds that H.I.H. Prince Yamashina is much interested in meteorological observation, and the successful ascent by the two experts is said to have been made in compliance with the Prince's wishes.

It is alleged by some that Japan has ambitions for gaining possession of the Philippines and Hawaii, but it requires but a little common sense to see that it would be madness for Japan to think of depriving a mighty nation like America of such valuable possessions, and such talk is nothing but idle gossip. The greatest problem of to-day in the Pacific Ocean is the maintenance of the integrity of China and of the "open door" to the world. On this matter all the Powers of the world entertain no difference of opinion, and especially is the United States using its utmost endeavours to help Japan in effecting this. It is in order that the "open door" should become an accomplished fact that Japan went to war with Russia; and now that this nation has been the means of securing the integrity of the Chinese territories and of opening them up for the benefit of the whole world, Japan is beginning to share with the rest of the world the fruits of the hard struggle. With reference to these affairs there is not a particle of contradiction of interest with the United States to furnish an excuse for such a wild rumour as that of war. These sensational stories, therefore, the Jiji believe, are confined to certain small districts, scarcely worth paying attention to. All scares of this kind are, from their very nature, fierce and violent for a time, and if one tries to suppress them in haste they are liable to grow all the more violent. Leave it to die a natural death.

THE A. D. C.

To-night the Hongkong Amateur Dramatic Club presents the first of three productions of the farcical comedy entitled "Facing the Music" in the Theatre Royal. The Club has gained a reputation of making a success of everything it undertakes and under the guidance of Messrs. K. Sutherland and John Robertson its credit is not likely to suffer. Indeed, another triumph may confidently be expected, because not only is the piece well chosen but the cast is composed of the cream of local thespians. The rehearsals have shown to what degree of excellence Messrs. Sutherland and Robertson can attain with ladies and gentlemen who are above the average of amateur performers, and the public may rely on enjoying a good night's entertainment. As usual the arrangements are adequate, thanks to the work and attention of Mr. A. Chapman.

THE ROYAL VISITORS AT SINGAPORE.

Singapore papers just to hand are all full of the Royal visit. From the Straits Times we extract the following poetical apostrophe to the Duke of Connaught:

Duke, bearing the name of that most pleasant King
Whose fame is yet a force to nerve the soul
Of him who boasts the blood, and to the goal
Of high enterprise urge him, that he may bring
Glory to England's greatness, force him fling
Fresh lustre o'er her. Long as waters roll
From south of Earth's circle to its pole,
So long shall here, love, and poet sing
The name of "Arthur." Prince! Kingcraft
Doth bid thee bither to our city gate
To cheer the Wardens of the High-sea-ways
And nerve them to their duty—not to bote
By gun or soldier the forces which await
Hated's first step, engendered by world praise.

The very forces which made England great
May servants be to doom. Freedom which can
Lift to the heights of heaven the hearts of men
May be smothered by Licence: she will pray
Till manhood mine thinks itself worthy mate
Of those world-heroes who have led the van
Of England Godwards. Such small souls place
A ban

On a vulgar vision: dream to rule the State
By thrones, Duke of the ancient blood!
Not of such blood are we, but in the name
Of that loved Queen, whose memory and fame
To-day we cherish: for the Nation's good;
We bid thee welcome, and with hearts aflame,
In naming, "Arthur," bless thee in that name.

KOWLOON PIGEON SHOW.

On Wednesday and yesterday the Kowloon pigeon show was open to the public on the grounds of the Kowloon Hotel, and many fanciers were in attendance to admire and appraise the exhibits. Pouter, Jacobins, Homers and other varieties were on view in the cages on the stands, and Mr. R. A. Nicholson had no easy task in awarding prizes. His judgment, however, was generally satisfactory, and met with the approval of exhibitors. The awards were as under:—

Pouters, cock or hen, any colour—Mr. Logan, 1st and 2nd, while another exhibit was highly commended.

Pouters, pairs, any colour—Mr. Logan, 1st.

Jacobins, cock or hen, any colour—Mr. Logan, 1st.

Jacobins, pairs, any colour—Mr. Logan, 1st and 2nd. The judge was further of opinion that this exhibit was the best in the show.

Owls, cock or hen, any colour—Mr. Logan, 1st and 2nd.

Owls, pairs, Mr. Logan, 1st and 2nd.

Homers, show—Sergeant McKay, 1st; Mr. Logan, 2nd and 3rd. Mr. Hobbs' exhibit was highly commended.

Homers, working—Mr. Hobbs, 1st and 2nd. Sergeant McKay's exhibit was very highly commended.

Homers, pairs, show—Mr. Logan 1st and 2nd, and 3rd; Mr. Osborne, 2nd. Mr. Logan's birds in this section were highly commended.

Common pigeon—Out of a great variety in this class Mr. Kynock was awarded the first prize.

After tiffin yesterday, Mr. Logan presented the winners with their prizes, and trusted that their success would be equalled in the next show.

DEATH OF CAPTAIN WARREN.

A profound impression was created among his many friends in the Colony by the news of the death of Captain Frank Warren, 87th Company, Royal Garrison Artillery. The sad event took place on Tuesday afternoon at the Military Hospital where he succumbed after a short illness to an attack of enteric fever. Deceased, who was the son of Sir Charles Warren, was well known locally and held in the highest esteem. He joined the army in 1891 as second lieutenant and three years later was made lieutenant, being promoted to captain in 1899.

The funeral on Wednesday was largely attended. Every branch of the services was represented and among the mourners were H.E. the Governor, and H.E. the General Officer Commanding. The band of the Middlesex Regiment played the Dead March.

HOME AND CHINA AFFAIRS.

[FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.]

London, January 13th.

CHINESE RAILWAY LOAN.

I have just been chatting to the City contributor of a morning daily regarding the new issue of £850,000 Imperial Chinese Railway five per cent sterling bonds for which the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation, as agent for the British and Chinese Corporation, have been authorized to receive subscriptions. As you are no doubt aware, this £850,000 is part of a loan for £2,250,000, of which £2,250,000 has been issued for the construction and equipment of a railway from Shanghai to Nanking to provide the further funds required for which the present issue has been made. The loan is authorized by Imperial edict and the principal and interest are unconditionally guaranteed by the Imperial Government of China, and specially secured by a first charge upon the permanent way, rolling-stock and entire property, with the freight and earnings of the Imperial Chinese Railways, as well as the railway line between Woonung and Shanghai. My stockbroking friend tells me that it is very probable that the investment will be readily subscribed by those who like a five per cent return, and in view of the Government guarantee the bonds are now being viewed with every satisfaction.

AN ASTOUNDING PROGRAMME.

A programme more nondescript and more strangely blended than that of any previous campaign has been issued by the Independent Labour Party in connection with the forthcoming London County Council elections. Their astonishing plan for municipal rule is to own or control everything! In order to control the coal supply of London they propose purchasing mines. They contemplate the erection of a chain of garden suburbs in London's outskirts, and no doubt with a view to ensure its success intend monopolising the transit traffic. They accept the Progressive scheme for the supply of electricity in bulk, and desire to absorb the Water Board, the Thames Conservancy and various other boards, not to mention the powers of Borough Councils. It is their hope to gain command of the whole body of Metropolitan and City Police, and to municipalise the hospitals, docks, markets and slaughterhouses of London. As a matter of fact, their manifesto is nothing short of municipalisation run mad and the financial ruin of the great metropolis is assured if elections are issued enough to accept the monstrous proposals.

FAMOUS FROM THE EAST.

Some years ago a couple of unknown performers delighted audiences in Hongkong and Shanghai with marvellous exhibitions of what was declared to be illustrations of thought transference. Nothing much was said at the time about the entertainments provided and the very existence of such artists as the Zin signs had been almost forgotten. Now they have arrived in London and are nightly attracting crowded houses to the Alhambra. Such fame have they attained that not long since they were commanded to give a performance before the King, who exhibited a keen interest in the "two minds with a single thought," as Julius and his wife, Agnes, are termed. The London newspapers have been discussing the merits of the performance, and while some of them declare that they are really exhibitions of telepathy others are ready to assert that the audiences are deceived by very clever trickery. Meanwhile the Zinagis are flourishing and their engagement at London's hall of pleasure has been extended.

WEDDING.

I see an announcement has been made of the marriage of Mr. E. A. Szwed, who, for a number of years, edited one of our evening contemporaries in Hongkong. The bride was a Miss Hilda Harris, who has been engaged in the nursing profession, and testimony to her popularity was exhibited on the day of her marriage when many colleagues tendered her their congratulations and good wishes. Mr. E. G. Heckford, who was at one time in Hongkong, attended the bridegroom as best man, and a Miss Gillespie waiting upon the little lady during the ceremony.

THE CHINA MISSION.

While at a seaside resort a few days since I had the pleasure of meeting the Rev. George and Mrs. Sparham, of the London Missionary Society, at Hankow. They are now home on furlough and appear to be devoting much of their time in the interest of the Society. It was only the other day that Mr. Sparham held an exhibition of curios from China, and sent quite a handsome little sum to the parent society, and now there is some talk of holding other exhibitions in various parts of England. Mr. Sparham informs me that the Rev. Griffith John, the pioneer of missionary work in various parts of China, is most anxious to get back to his field of labour and does not contemplate leaving America until the time arrives for his departure for China.

PERSONAL.

In certain quarters in town, which are usually well informed in the matter of Colonial appointments, I recently heard it stated that there is a possibility of Mr. R. H. Basil Taylor being appointed successor to the late Hon. Mr. Barnes Lawrence. I cannot vouch for the accuracy of the statement which I give for what it may be worth. I believe that Mr. Taylor contemplates a trip to Ireland and on his way back to the Far East will make a tour through Egypt.

Comedy laughs with, satire laughs at, humanity. Sympathy and love of mankind are necessary to comic insight. But the success of satire rests on the negation of sympathy, the contrary of love.

FOOTBALL.

Y.M.C.A. v. G. COMPANY.

This tie in the second round of the Shield competition attracted a large number of spectators to the Club ground at the Happy Valley yesterday afternoon. Both teams turned out at full strength, and as was expected a very keen game resulted. There was a fine exhibition of football, though at times greater combination might have been shown. At the outset it looked as if the soldiers would prove more robust and last the fast play that was introduced, but the Y.M.C.A. delighted their supporters by their splendid stamina and certainly showed superior tactics and running at the close of the game. The result of the match was—two goals each.

The teams lined up as follows:
Y.M.C.A.—Hickling, Hamilton and McCubbin; Percy, Farlow and Collins; Anderson and Coyne; Wilks; Griffiths and LeGrove.
G. Company, 3rd Middlesex—Saunders, West and Perkins; Gee, Remnant and Jennings and English; Miles; I. C. English and Clegg.

Early in the game found the civilians aggressive, but they were not allowed to have things their own way and were soon called upon to repel a determined attack which almost ended disastrously for them. Hickling, in saving, left his charge and the leather being promptly returned the military forwards would have had an open goal had not Hamilton filled the breach. Give and take play followed. Anderson on the right was conspicuous and showed a wonderful command of the ball, while Percy was the most indefatigable player on the field. His speed enabled him to be here and there when wanted and his eye for the goal was very favourably. Both backs did well, but Hamilton was handicapped by an injured leg. He was the unwitting cause of throwing L. Corpi, English in his fall dislocated a finger. On the whole the Y.M.C.A. forwards displayed a fair degree of combination, but Wilks might have given the right wing more to do than he did. The soldiers' line of defence was particularly strong, while their right wing was very speedy. Half time was called without any score having been registered.

The second half opened more vigorously. The Y.M.C.A. again took up the running and attacked in fine style. Several fruitless corners fell to their lot but about ten minutes from the restart they were awarded a penalty and Barlow gave them the first point. Roused by this reverse the soldiers made a determined onslaught on the opposing citadel which ultimately fell, Goe beating Hickling with a shot a few yards out. A few minutes later the Middlesex followed up their advantage and a brilliant run by Sharp and his partner ended in the former creating beautifully. Miles accepting the pass and scoring. This roused the enthusiasm of the supporters of the regiment, but the association men soon had their efforts at goal rewarded, a fierce attack ending in their scoring through the agency of the left wing, his shot being headed by Perkins in the wrong direction. For a time the soldiers pressed hard but afterwards the play was practically in their hands and the association experienced hard luck in not being able to gain the winning point. The match ended—Y.M.C.A., 2 goals; Middlesex, 2 goals.

ROYAL ARTILLERY v. LUSITANO F. C.

With the R.A. goal keeper wearing his great coat and calling loudly to his comrades to let him have a kick, it can be surmised that the Shield match between these Clubs was not very interesting. A good start was witnessed, and the opening ten minutes of the first half gave promise of an excellent game, both teams defending and attacking alternately. Then the Lusitanos appeared to fire, the fast play of their larger opponents telling on them, and the match was practically decided when Carrick scored the soldiers' first goal. A few minutes afterwards Buckland scored a second, a third being added by the same player on the restart. A little midfield play followed before the R.A. were again attacking, and Carrick noted another goal. As before stated the soldiers had the advantage of a much heavier, and a smarter forward line.

These set to guard them, were unequal to the task, therefore the work fell on the backs and the keeper of the Lusitano Club, F. Silva, in goal, showed up well throughout while Carrick and Barretto did their work well at back, but the team lacked the combination necessary to repulse the invaders.

Half-time, R.A., 4; Lusitanos, 0.
Throughout the second half the Lusitanos crossed into the soldiers' territory about six times. Excepting these little excursions, play was all the time before their net, and the half was a very trying one for them. Before it ended Buckland, Carrick and Jones each added another goal to the score.
Final: R.A., 7; Lusitanos, 0.

The players were:
Royal Artillery: Pallas; Evans and Burton; Maclean, Carrick and Waters; West, Jones, Buckland, Harbridge and Cantor.
Lusitanos: F. Silva; P. Rosa and J. Barretto; E. Hyndman, L. Cordeiro and J. Victor; H. Hyndman, L. A. Ozorio, A. Barros, R. Silva and A. Ribeiro.

CYCLING.

The Tai Po Road race took place on Wednesday under fairly agreeable conditions. Of the seventeen entrants only twelve started, and several of these did not finish. L. Le Breton finished first, doing the distance in 1 hr. 18 minutes, which is considerably better than his previous best time. L. Singh was second and J. C. Pollock third.

LAWN BOWLS.

A spoons competition took place on Kowloon Bowling Green on Wednesday afternoon and with the ladies in attendance dispensing tea a pleasant time was spent. The results were:
H. Whyte, W. Hutchings
J. Russell (skip), 21 W. Ramsay (skip) 20
J. McEwen, D. Harvey
J. M. Henderson (skip) 21 J. C. Gow (skip) 20

CHINESE Y.M.C.A. SPORTS.

Yesterday the Chinese Y.M.C.A. had a sports meeting at Causeway Bay when running, jumping and cycling were the order of the day. There was a large crowd in attendance, which included many ladies, and a very pleasant afternoon was spent. The features of the meeting were the bicycle races. Two of these, the one and three mile events, were won by Mr. J. C. Pollock, while the visitors' race, a two mile scratch event, was carried off by Mr. Le Breton, the winner of the Tai Po road race. The Calcutta String Band was in attendance, and played selections of music during the afternoon.

AUSTRALIAN SHIPPING CASE.

With regard to the important case heard in the Arbitration Court at Sydney between the Merchant Service Guild of Australasia and the Australian Steamship Association as respondents, the particulars of the judgment of Mr. Justice O'Connor have now been placed in the hands of the Imperial Merchant Service Guild and from it it appears that substantial improvements have been gained by the claimants. Mr. Justice O'Connor declined to recognize the claim that agreements should be in writing and should be terminated by three months' notice on either side. This he said was entirely novel and altogether inapplicable to a seafaring employment and inconsistent with discipline and control. Also he did not allow extra remuneration for masters acting as pilots, but directed that the shipowners should recoup the masters for their expenses in this connection. Neither did Mr. Justice O'Connor allow payment for overtime for officers, stating that the true remedy for cases in which officers remained on duty for very long periods was to prevent unduly long hours on duty, not to counteract their effect by extra payment. In stating that the rates paid on respondents' steamers were much higher than the rates paid on ordinary British steamers, Mr. Justice O'Connor said that with the exception of chief officers' pay on larger ships, the officers' pay generally was very fair remuneration, but the masters' pay was not. He had come to the conclusion that the pay of masters and chief officers in certain cases was not fair and reasonable, and it became his duty to fix what he considered fair and reasonable rates. He considered that the rates claimed by the Merchant Service Guild were too high, but as regards masters the result of his decision was an increase of £1 per month in the minimum rate and £2 13s 4d in the maximum rate. Chief Officers' pay would in many instances be increased by £1 per month with similar increase to second officers and in some cases in the pay of third officers. The appointment of spare officers when vessels were in port was provided for in the award, whilst it also dealt with the working hours of officers in the various ports. In the award the vessels are classified as follows: Class A, passenger steamers; Class B, cargo steamers; Class C, Division 1, 100 tons and under; Division 2, 100 to 200 tons; Division 3, 200 to 300 tons; Division 4, over 300 tons, Class E, Division 1, 100 tons and under; Division 2, 100 to 200 tons; Division 3, 200 to 300 tons; Division 4, over 300 tons. Masters' pay. Class A, Division 1, £21 to £25 per month; Division 2, £25 to £28; Division 3, £28 to £31; Division 4, £31 to £34. Class B, Division 1, £21 to £22; Division 2, £22 to £23; Division 3, £23 to £24; Division 4, £24 to £25. First Officer's Pay. Class A, Division 1, £15; Division 2, £15; Division 3, £15; Division 4, £15. Class B, Division 1, £15; Division 2, £15; Division 3, £15; Division 4, £15. Third Officer's Pay. Class A, Division 1, £10; Division 2, £10; Division 3, £10; Division 4, £10. Class B, Division 1, £10; Division 2, £10; Division 3, £10; Division 4, £10. Fourth and fifth officers. Pay of fourth and fifth officers in all ships £8.

Masters are given virtually an allowance of 6% and 4% is allowed to each of navigating officers. The Masters and navigating officers are to be entitled to continuous 10 days' leave of absence on full pay.

THE CHINESE NEW YEAR.

HOW THE OCCASION IS CELEBRATED.

A writer in the Lat Pau has a good deal to say about the current festival. Some days before the great day, relatives and friends exchange presents—poultry, fruit, and cakes. It is at the New Year when a Chinaman's debts must be paid and dues collected, for he does not start with fresh account books—those wonderful cash books with only one side! A Chinaman will never worry you for money throughout the year, but on this occasion you are expected to play the man and pay your debts. Their houses now also get a little attention. Dirt which has been allowed to accumulate throughout the year is removed, the gateways are posted with new red scrolls of paper, on which are inscribed appropriate characters in Chinese. The feast-table of the family gods is decked with various eatables, such as fruits, preserved sweets, the punnets, oranges, and flowers. Much incense is burnt, and large red candles lighted throughout the evening. Exactly at twelve midnight, crackers are let off abundantly to congratulate the gods, and the celebration of the festival then commences briskly. Until a white man has heard a Chinese New Year he can never say he has heard Chinese crackers. At about four in the morning a sacrifice to heaven and earth, called "presenting rice on New Year's Day," is made. On this auspicious day Chinese women do not comb their hair, and Chinese men do not wash their faces. It is to be swept, or even a broom to be used, because if one should unwittingly do so the New Year would, according to Chinese belief, bring him nothing but ill-luck. The Chinaman, by reason of his intense belief in and reverence for heaven and earth, abstains entirely from eating meat on this day, the custom being sometimes called setting vegetables in honor of heaven and earth, and is regarded as an act of merit and restraint. All public business is suspended; all shops, stalls, and business houses are closed. Many of the large stores and "longs" do not open for the transaction of business for seven or eight days; some do not commence until the twelfth, or even the fifteenth, day of the first month. The longer a shop is kept closed during the New Year festivities, the more respectable and reputable it seems to be regarded. Except the bare necessities of food required for daily use, very little or nothing of buying and selling is done for the first few days, because every one is feasting and resting. The adults of many families are not supposed to retire for rest on the first night; it is not every Chinaman worth the name expected to carry out to the letter these sacred hereditary rites of his forefathers? Many go through the ceremony of washing and ablution in warm water, in which are steeped the aromatic leaves of the pomegranate. The idea is to wash off all the bad luck of the Old Year and prepare for a new lease of life. After prostrations have been made before the altar, and leaves of sacrificial papers burnt as an expression of obligation to heaven and earth for giving him protection and success in life, at dawn of day, if he is not playing at "fan-tan" or "ving-tan-tan," or sipping his cup of wine, the Chinaman dons his hat at clothes. With a packet of red colored visiting cards (with oblong and 6 in. by 4 in. in size), on which his name and patronymic are written or printed in large characters, he salutes forth, accompanied by his children, if blessed with any, to pay his respects to his relatives and friends, leaving one of the male members at home to receive any expected callers. This is called "new calls," and such calls have to be reciprocated, according to custom.

The next stage of development was the appreciation of curious combinations of words. One child wrote that the funniest thing it ever heard was "Peter, punket Peter." It meant nothing but the jingle of the words tickled the child's mind. A little girl wrote that the funniest thing she ever saw was a drunken man who could hardly stand up the staple of the humor of children from eight to twelve years of age, and they are the ordinary standard of the London music-hall joke. The professor said, amid laughter. A man played a solo on a sapeyan, were a bonnet for a hat, or dressed as a tramp when he should be dressed as a gentleman, and the musical hall audience declared it to be a terrible joke. "The ordinary humor of the music-hall is that of eight or twelve years of age," said the professor at which his audience laughed and said "Heard, heard."

JEWISH SETTLEMENT IN AMERICA.

Owing to the numerous pogroms which have taken place in Russia during the last year and a half, and the consequent stream of emigration from Russia thereby caused, the Jewish Territorial Organization has initiated a department for the regulation, so far as may be possible, of this rush. Of the 1,400,000 Jews who are spread through the whole of the United States in 1,904, 750,000, or more than half, are in New York, and of this number more than half again are in one square mile. In the month of November alone 11,480 Russian Jews poured into New York, more than doubling the number for the same period of the previous year. The Jewish Territorial Organization will make propaganda in Russia to explain to would-be emigrants the advisability of making Calcutta the port of arrival instead of New York. From Calcutta to New York there are six railway lines going to the best points for emigrants. There is no idea whatever of their remaining even for a single day at Calcutta. The organization has persuaded some leading American Jews of the necessity of setting up a Jewish emigrant information bureau in Calcutta, and has immediately on their arrival they may obtain full information of the best towns where work can be obtained for their particular trade. The general superintendent of the work in the United States has been undertaken by Mr. Cyrus Sulzberger, one of the leading workers in the Jewish community in New York. This European movement has the support of many of the leading European Jews, including Lord Rothschild for England—his brother, Mr. Leopold Rothschild, being treasurer of the new department—Baron Edmond de Rothschild for France, and Herr James Simon in Berlin. A good deal of the active work will be undertaken by Mr. Paul Nathan in conjunction with members of the council of the organization. The movement is for the best interests of the Jewish emigrants and for the best interests of the United States, in which the demand for labour in great many parts is far in excess of the supply.

CHILDREN'S SENSE OF HUMOUR.

SOME FUNNY STORIES.

"The funniest thing I ever saw was a black negro eating a red water melon."
"The funniest thing I ever heard was about a man running. Some one asked him why he was running, and he said he was going to get home before he got tired."

These are two of many instances of child humor that Professor Earle Barnes related last month to the British Association for the Study of Child Psychology. He was talking about the various phases of humor in children, and gave an explanation of humor.

"We are all in the world to grow, develop, and prosper. That necessitates regular, organized work," he said. "But the continuity of work makes us tired, and that has to be corrected by bringing new centres of activity into play. If in the middle of organized work our minds are switched off to something that is not organized activity, we feel refreshed, and nature rewards the flushing out of our activities into new areas of feeling with a sense of mirth, which we call humor."
"For instance, if we watch a man driving a calf down a lane, that is organized work, and if we continue watching it we feel tired. But if the calf suddenly upsets the man in a puddle, that is not work; it is disorganized activity. It causes a flash of new activity in the mind, and nature says, 'Well done, glad to have these new activities.' That's humor."

The professor gave many samples of child humor selected from 2,700 answers written by children to the question: "What is the most laughable thing you have seen or heard?"
I read a story where a man mixed sawdust with his food to give his children for an experiment," wrote a boy. "After a while the hen hatched four eggs. Three turned out chickens with wooden legs, and the fourth was a woodpecker."

Another told a story of a man who had another £2 he could not drink a gallon of beer. With a bit and I'll tell you whether I'll take the bet," said the man. He went away, and on returning took the bet and drank the gallon. "I didn't think you could do it," said the man who offered the bet. "No, I didn't," said the other, "until I had been down to Bill's sale and tried it!"
"There are some people who so concentrate their minds on the regular activities of life that they cannot be turned aside to these flashings of energy and lively gain refreshment," said the professor, and he suggested Lord Kitchener and the late Mr. Russell Sage as instances. Any one who wanted to crack a joke on Russell Sage would have had to use a sledge-hammer, he said.

"The humor first enjoyed by the child is purely physical," he said. "You take up a year old infant, shake him gently, rub your nose in his pinafore and say 'boo.' That's the joke that always brings down the house."
"After one year the child begins to appreciate the appeal to the senses, and laughs at 'peep bo' behind a handkerchief. Next he enjoys 'terrible grimaces' from a distance, a d from three years to six he laughs at his own jokes more than at anyone else's."

"Between six and twelve," the professor added, "the thing that children enjoy most is deformity—an unusual combination of circumstances, such as a drunken man, or a dwarf or an animal. More than a third of the children mentioned a monkey as the funniest thing."

"The funniest thing is a rabbit," because he sits up on his hind legs," said one child.
The next stage of development was the appreciation of curious combinations of words. One child wrote that the funniest thing it ever heard was "Peter, punket Peter." It meant nothing but the jingle of the words tickled the child's mind. A little girl wrote that the funniest thing she ever saw was a drunken man who could hardly stand up the staple of the humor of children from eight to twelve years of age, and they are the ordinary standard of the London music-hall joke. The professor said, amid laughter. A man played a solo on a sapeyan, were a bonnet for a hat, or dressed as a tramp when he should be dressed as a gentleman, and the musical hall audience declared it to be a terrible joke. "The ordinary humor of the music-hall is that of eight or twelve years of age," said the professor at which his audience laughed and said "Heard, heard."

JEWISH SETTLEMENT IN AMERICA.

Owing to the numerous pogroms which have taken place in Russia during the last year and a half, and the consequent stream of emigration from Russia thereby caused, the Jewish Territorial Organization has initiated a department for the regulation, so far as may be possible, of this rush. Of the 1,400,000 Jews who are spread through the whole of the United States in 1,904, 750,000, or more than half, are in New York, and of this number more than half again are in one square mile. In the month of November alone 11,480 Russian Jews poured into New York, more than doubling the number for the same period of the previous year. The Jewish Territorial Organization will make propaganda in Russia to explain to would-be emigrants the advisability of making Calcutta the port of arrival instead of New York. From Calcutta to New York there are six railway lines going to the best points for emigrants. There is no idea whatever of their remaining even for a single day at Calcutta. The organization has persuaded some leading American Jews of the necessity of setting up a Jewish emigrant information bureau in Calcutta, and has immediately on their arrival they may obtain full information of the best towns where work can be obtained for their particular trade. The general superintendent of the work in the United States has been undertaken by Mr. Cyrus Sulzberger, one of the leading workers in the Jewish community in New York. This European movement has the support of many of the leading European Jews, including Lord Rothschild for England—his brother, Mr. Leopold Rothschild, being treasurer of the new department—Baron Edmond de Rothschild for France, and Herr James Simon in Berlin. A good deal of the active work will be undertaken by Mr. Paul Nathan in conjunction with members of the council of the organization. The movement is for the best interests of the Jewish emigrants and for the best interests of the United States, in which the demand for labour in great many parts is far in excess of the supply.

STRAITS OFFICIAL SALARIES.

INCREASE OF FIFTEEN PER CENT WARRANTED.

In this paper was published first the news that the Secretary of State had telegraphed to enquire what would be the cost of making an increase equivalent to 15 per cent in the salaries of officials serving in the S.S. and F.M.S., says the Malay Mail. The Times of Malaya has now received information from Penang confirming our statement with regard to the Secretary of State's intentions. It is very satisfactory to learn that something is at last to be done. Presumably the 15 per cent increase will be granted as from January 1st of this year, for it is hardly to be expected that the Secretary of State for the Colonies will allow the increase to be applied retrospectively. His decision, however, offers a brighter outlook for the future. Half a loaf is better than no bread, and we congratulate the Government servants on at last obtaining official recognition of the pecuniary disadvantages which have been their lot of late.

The Perak Pioneer understands that the attitude of non possumus has been abandoned in favour of an equitable consideration of the actual pecuniary position of the officers concerned apart from an aced mised discussion of the legal and technical questions involved.
In view of the Straits and F.M.S. Civil Services being a practically united body, it goes without saying the emoluments drawn by officers in either service ought to be identical. The financial position of the F.M.S. Government will undoubtedly warrant its granting its employees an advance in salaries on a 15 per cent basis which was universally expected to be granted on the establishment of fifty at 2s. 4d. to the dollar. This would not have involved the disbursement of a single dollar over and above the Budget provisions allotted for the years 1904 and 1905 at the rate of two shillings to the dollar. The raising of their sterling salaries by a certain percentage would merely represent a new cost or expenditure but a simple restoration to them, to some extent, of the salaries they were recipients of before the fall of exchange nearly two years ago.

MOTOR CARS IN JAPAN.

NEW MEANS OF PUBLIC CONVEYANCE.

The proposed establishment of the Japan Automobile Company, with a capital of ¥10,000,000 as a new scheme of public conveyance, is drawing a large amount of attention in Tokyo. The popular nature of this enterprise may be inferred from the fact that no fewer than six different similar proposals have been promulgated in the capital, while the Japanese Government is reported to have a scheme under contemplation to run motor carriages on its railway trucks. The six proposed companies in Tokyo have now been amalgamated under the title of the Japan Automobile Company which is now engaged in the consummation of the enterprise. The promoters include several well-known names.

From the prospectus published by the promoters it appears that the business will at first be confined to Tokyo and neighbourhood and gradually extend to other parts. The first call on shares is to amount to ¥2,500,000 and 100 automobiles will be bought. The first call amounting to ¥2,500,000 is to be appropriated as below:

200 automobiles	¥2,240,000
Purchase of land	80,000
Buildings	50,000
Repairs	30,000
Working fund	100,000
	¥2,500,000

ESTIMATED RECEIPTS.
Receipts from 150 motor cars in Tokyo at ¥21.00 per car a day ¥3,240
Receipts from 15 motor cars between Tokyo and Kamegaya at ¥10 per car per day 240
Receipts from 30 motor cars between Tokyo and Yokohama at ¥12.50 per car 450
Total daily receipts 4,020
Total annual receipts 1,467,300

ESTIMATED EXPENDITURE.
Salaries and wages ¥126,200
Fuel (gasoline) at ¥7 a day per car 498,225
Sundry expenses 36,000
¥660,525

Net profit 1,806,775

DISTRIBUTION OF PROFIT.
Legal reserve ¥40,500
Reserve for depreciation of cars 325,000
Bonus to officials 50,000
Dividend (15 per cent) 375,000
Carried forward 16,275

Y808,775

The promoters declare that the receipts are mentioned are based on the most conservative estimates, but it has to be remembered that breakdowns on such vehicles are not infrequent. Even in London, where bus traffic is no novelty, passengers in motor buses have often to continue their journey by other means, while claims for damages resulting from accidents amount to large sums. The above scheme seems an ambitious one, to say the least, but like everything else floated nowadays there is sure to be a rash for shares. —Japan Chronicle.

BOY CURED OF RINGWORM

Doctor Attended Him for Several Weeks without any Benefit—Friends Surprised at Result of Cure, and Mother

STRONGLY RECOMMENDS CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I am pleased to give you the particulars respecting the case of my son Cyril. Four years ago, he came home from school with ringworm. At once we had the family doctor who attended him for several weeks without any benefit, and told me he feared his head would have to be shaved. Seeing your advertisement I got one tablet of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment. Our friends, of course, were surprised at the result. He was cured, his hair began to grow at once, and in two months he had a lovely head of hair, and has it now. I strongly recommend Cuticura Remedies in all cases of ringworm. You are quite at liberty to use my experience for the benefit of others. Mrs. L. Hantley, 17 Fairham Road, Westcombe Park, Charlton, S.E., Eng., Apr. 5, 1906."

WORLD'S FAVOURITE

For Skin, Scalp, Hair, and Hands is Cuticura.

For preserving, purifying, and beautifying the skin, for clearing the scalp of crusts, scales, and dandruff, and the stopping of falling hair, for softening, whitening, and soothing red, rough, and sore hands, for baby rashes, scabbies, and chafes, for annoying irritations and ulcerative weaknesses, and many sanative, antiseptic purposes which readily suggest themselves to mothers, as well as for all the purposes of the toilet, bath, and nursery. Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment, the great Skin Cure, are priceless. No other remedies so pure, so sweet, so economical, and so speedily effective. They are the World's Favourites.

Complete External and Internal Treatment for Every Humour of the Skin, Children, and Adults, consisting of Cuticura Soap to cleanse the skin, Cuticura Ointment to heal the skin, and Cuticura Pills (Chocolate Coated, 10¢ per box) to purify the blood, a simple and effective, and thoroughly reliable treatment. ### ADVICE WORTH A GUINEA FEE

Many a man has profited by his physician's advice that Hall's Coca Wine was just the tonic he required to overcome physical and nervous breakdown. It is worth a guinea fee to learn of the marvellous restorative merit of this grand preparation. Hall's Coca Wine has for over a generation had the enthusiastic endorsement of many thousands of medical men. No other remedy has proved so universally successful in restoring a lasting strength to the weak and the ailing.

CANTON-HANKOW RAILWAY.

The Hongkong correspondent of the N.C. Daily News sends the following readable summary of affairs to date.

It is often stated that the path of true love is beset with thorns. It may be affirmed that the building of the Canton-Hankow railway is beset with both thorns and briars, and that those who are interested in and selected for the furthering of the enterprise are the very persons who have done much to retard its progress. The present situation is characteristically Chinese, and could hardly have been created by less zealous minds. It is difficult for a foreigner, relying only on reports published in the native Press, to apprehend the complexity and subtlety of the situation. The Chinese mind is needed. The earliest point, however, seems to have been something like this. When Viceroy Tsen was resigning in the Two Kuang, two Hongkong Chinese gentlemen, who, as shareholders in the railway company, had great influence, and who further had in their possession large sums of money, which Hongkong Chinese had subscribed towards the funds of the enterprise, refused to hand over the money at the central office in Canton when called upon to do so. They demanded first of all a public audit of the accounts already received, and more than insinuated that everything might not be right. As is well known, Tsen was removed, and H.E. Chou Fu assumed the reins of power, and in order that these suspicions might be laid to rest, he ordered that the audit be made. It has been carried through, and as far as the public is aware, there appear to be no solid grounds for the suspicions that were aroused. When these two gentlemen declined to hand over the funds, the Company naturally resented the action, and so promptly expunged their names from the list of shareholders. After the public audit had more or less testified to the straightforwardness of everything, they wished to have their names reinstated. At this the Directors of the Company demurred, and indeed refused point blank. But since then another difficulty has arisen, which threatens to be even more disturbing than that mentioned above. At a big meeting held in the Kwang Tsi Hospital, Canton, there was a stirring time. A certain Lao Tsi-liang charged the Canton officials with wholesale bribery. It was insinuated that in addition to the Viceroy, Yu, the Provincial Treasurer, Chu, the Provincial Judge, and Taotai Shien had all been guilty of receiving bribes at the hands of the Directors of the railway company. The meeting was supposed to be in camera, but somehow a report of the meeting found its way into the pages of The Political News, one of the Canton dailies. Of course there was a tremendous outburst of anger on the part of the officials whose honesty had been impugned, and a troop of soldiers was at once ordered to the room of the editor who, under safe escort, was compelled to pay a visit to the magistrate's yamen. How is self-defence made a clean breast of his part in the transaction, and so the author of the aspersions, Lao Tsi-liang, was arrested, and is now in custody. The officials, it is reported, are furious and consumed by a white-hot rage. They have determined that he shall continue in duress until he can produce the very witness who actually saw bribes paid over into the hands of the officials. Further, an attempt has been made to confuse the issue, by insinuating that the secret meeting held in the Kwang Tsi Hospital was sanctioned by the general body of shareholders and directors, whose official representatives in Canton are the Seventy-Two Hongks. The latter have angrily repudiated this sanction. The Seventy-Two Hongks have not only done this, but they have taken vigorous steps to prevent the reinstatement of all the two Hongkong Chinese, whose action first of all started the trouble among the shareholders. A few days ago arrangements were made whereby the public to be photographed just as it was published. The public proclamation denounced the insinuations of the two Hongkong Chinese, and, at the same time, stated in unmistakable language, that the two agitators should not be reinstated in their old position. All this has been photographed piece by piece, and after the several sections have been arranged so as to form one complete whole, the proclamation will be forwarded by the Imperial post to Peking, for the information of the several Boards which are supposed to be interested in the construction of the railway and also have authority vested in them to direct more or less effectively the course of events. Meanwhile ex-Viceroy Tsen has just sent down a long telegram from Shanghai, in which he has advised patients, and deprecated anything like unbridled and unpremeditated action, either on the part of the officials or the shareholders. It is easily seen from this brief summary of the reported situation, that affairs have become as inextricably involved as rings in the hands of a clever conjurer. They can only be separated by the same means that have produced the confusion. It is often asserted that where there is smoke there must be fire; it is certain that where there is smoke there may be fire, and no one can deny that there is a considerable volume of smoke here. Chan Kang-yu and his companion Yung, whose action in refusing to hand over the funds led to all that has followed, are by no means without influence among the Chinese in Hongkong and are unlikely to have taken the determined stand without some solid ground for their suspicions and action. At first, when the Viceroy ordered that a public audit be made, some of the Directors were reported to be averse thereto, and this aversion was attributed upon the Chinese Press. The more difficult matter to straighten out is the charge of peculation made against the Provincial officials en masse. Lao Tsi-liang should have had indubitable evidence of such bribery, or he should have kept his mouth closed. He apparently had forgotten that what is spoken in secret in China to-day, is in more favourable lands may tomorrow be proclaimed upon the housetop, and therefore should have been less zealous in his insinuations. Peculation and squeezing amongst Chinese officials are not unknown to the initiated, but the day is dawning when those who are guilty of such shady transactions may read a report thereof and a criticism thereon at their early meal on the following morning. A few years ago when there were no newspapers, such beings were known only to the few, and no one was greatly disturbed, because, probably, all to whom the facts were known, had been, at one time or another, tarred with the same brush. It is not so to-day. What is greatly to be regretted is that the affair should have become entangled into this confusion, when facts call for a straight-forward course. When a great enterprise like this is to be put through, confidence in the reliability of the Directors should not be undermined—absolute faith in the integrity of the leaders is a sine qua non of success. At this juncture when China is making such frantic efforts in so many ways to arrange her affairs so that she may hold up her head among the nations and won't regard herself as moving in line with Japan, in the forefront of civilization, an exhibition of this kind, with or without foundation, is much to be deplored, for must cannot be thrown without either the thrower, or those at whom it is thrown being smothered thereby. Multi-throwing, moreover, is not an occupation that should be indulged in by men, whose ambition should be to push forward a great enterprise, but by foolish boys, who are either angry with each other, or captivated by love of a pastime, which is somewhat ignoble.

A NEW CHAPTER IN THE ROMANCE OF SCIENCE.

Dr. Andrew Wilson has, in the January "Cornhill," an interesting article on Opsonins. First he explains briefly the discoveries of Dr. Waller and Professor Metchnikoff concerning the white corpuscles or phagocytes of the blood, whose function is to attack and destroy germs which have gained admittance to the body, besides contributing to the healing and repair of wounds and injuries. Their action is best illustrated he says, in the process known as inflammation. But this is only the prologue to the history of opsonins. Later on it has been discovered that while the phagocytes did accomplish their work in the direction indicated, they were aided by some outside agency. This agency, Dr. Wilson explains, is represented by the plasma or blood-fluid itself. Dr. Wright and Douglas, as a result of their investigations, have come to the conclusion that the blood-fluid exerts some influence on the phagocytes in the performance of their work. They are of opinion that the real source of the power possessed by the blood-fluid plasma is to be found in substances contained in it called opsonins, which perform their share of the blood-destroying work, not by stimulating the phagocytes to the attack, but by acting on the microbes, weakening their powers, and making them an easy prey of the white blood-cells. Thus the opsonic index of an individual is the measure of his germ-killing power and in a new sense "the blood is the life."

"A BIT RUN DOWN!"

THEN ACUTE INDIGESTION, BILIOUSNESS, PAINS IN THE SIDE, BLURRED SIGHT, TORTURING HEADACHES.

RELIEF CAME AT LAST THROUGH MOTHER SEIGEL'S SYRUP.

When you feel "a bit run down" don't neglect the warning. Don't think it is nothing, that it will pass off, or that you will "shake it off." If you have an exceptionally strong constitution you may perhaps shake it off for a time, but it will return again. You cannot get rid of it permanently until you adopt proper means to free your system from the danger which threatens it. Unless you do this the evil will certainly increase, and ere long you will find yourself in the grip of acute indigestion, with the probability of drowsy sleep to follow. This was the experience of Mrs. Mary Ann Frohisher, 22, Armitage Street, Castleford, Yorks, as it has been the experience of thousands; but she, after trying other things, found the proper means at last in Mother Seigel's Syrup, and was quickly restored to health. In a statement dated May 21st, 1906, she says:— "Some ten years ago I was kept so busy, having both a business and a house to look after, that sometimes never came round for me. Something in my hand, even while at work, was all I could manage generally. Of course this told on me. I felt a bit run down and tired. My tongue was coated in the morning, and there was a bad taste in my mouth. "IT WAS AWFUL!" "Then I got worse. My head ached, oh, such a lot, and so often, and there were sharp stabbing pains in my side—it was awful. Little bits of light went to dance before my eyes, swelling and fading and giving place to hundreds of others. I was afraid to eat and I got quite down-hearted and miserable. A doctor prescribed for me, but I got no better. "At last, on a neighbour's advice, I got some Mother Seigel's Syrup and tried a little. I improved rapidly, and soon was completely cured."

The early signs of indigestion may be only slight; they generally are slight, but on no account should they be neglected. Sooner or later the real disease will appear, and then end to all pleasure in life. Take Mother Seigel's Syrup, and you will escape the tortures of this terrible complaint.

In the event of the passenger leaving the Mail Steamer at Naples, Genoa or Gibraltar and travelling to Bremen or Southampton overland the same rates to be applied as via NAPLES,

GENOA or GIBRALTAR, but in this case the cost of the railway trip, etc., to be at passengers' expense.

TOUR VIA INDIA:

Passengers have the option of using a Steamer of the British India S. N. Co. from SINGAPORE to CALCUTTA instead of an Imperial Mail Steamer from Singapore to Colombo.

The cost of the journey from Calcutta to Colombo by rail or steamer is, however, not included.

INTERRUPTION OF THE VOYAGE IN EGYPT:

Passengers to European and New-York are entitled to travel by the N. D. L. Mediterranean

Steamers from ALEXANDRIA, to Naples or Marseilles instead of using an Imperial Mail Steamer from Port SAID.
